FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

January 24, 2014

Super Bowl Supper for The Homeless

As the rest of the country gathers with friends in their homes for Super Bowl XLVIII, the homeless in a Palm Beach County will also get a chance to watch the big game. The Homeless Coalition of Palm Beach County has partnered with Christ Fellowship and The First Baptist Church of West Palm Beach to throw a "Super Bowl Party for the City". The event is open to the homeless and anyone at risk of becoming homeless.

Not only will the homeless in our community get a free meal, they can watch the Broncos battle the Seahawks on a big screen tv. We will have volunteers providing free haircuts, foot washing, health assessments and giving away clothing. Join us as we show how our community is working together to end homelessness in our area.
